

Dear Parents and Carers,

Class Charts is coming – What You Need To Know

From Tuesday 22 April, we will begin using a new platform called Class Charts across all our Maiden Erlegh Trust schools.

Class Charts is a trusted system which we have already successfully trialed at one of our schools. It enables parents and carers to:

- Report your child's absence
- View your child's attendance and behaviour record
- See homework that has been set and when it is due
- Celebrate your child's progress, including positive points for great work and behaviour

This means you'll have real-time access to the information that matters most — helping you support your child more easily. We will continue to use the My Child at School App for data collection and reports.

What you need to do to get up and running

To access Class Charts, please:

1. Download the free Class Charts Parent App using the QR codes or links below
2. Log in using your personal access code, which we will provide towards the end of the Easter Holidays via email
3. Get in touch if you need support

Download the Class Charts app

Please use one of the links or QR codes below.

If you have any issues accessing the app or logging in, please contact your school office and a member of our team will be happy to help.

What happens next?

- We will send your parent access code and full setup instructions over the Easter break
- Students will receive support with logging in and using the system at school after the Easter break
- Please ask your child to download the Class Charts Student App before returning to school after the holidays

- ClassCharts Students on the Apple App Store
- Students will be shown how to access their account on Tuesday 22 April with tutors

Thank you for your continued support as we roll out Class Charts across the Maiden Erlegh Trust.

We're confident it will make communication easier and help us work together to support your child's learning journey.

Yours sincerely

A. Hartley
